Stimson Likes Student Book Store Scheme

'Co-operative Student Book Store Would Give Practical Business Experience.'

CASH REFUND YEARLY

A co-operative student book store, as outlined in a recent Gateway editorial, was approved by Dr. Claude W. Stimson, head of the department of economics, in an interview Friday.

"The chief advantage derived from a co-operative student book store," Dr. Stimson said, "is the opportunity for students to gain practical experience in managing and operating a business concern."

A co-operative book store would be of great service to the students in serving as a clearing house for used books, he said. Students could leave used books at the store to be sold. The store could charge a small commission on each sale for this service.

'Sell at List Price' "A student book store would not result in great savings for students," Dr. Stimson said, "but would reduce the amount spent for books appreciably."

"The book store could sell books at the list price," he said. "At the close of the school year the accounts of the store could be audited by some competent person not connected with the store. On the basis of the auditor's report the students would receive refunds in proportion to the amount of their purchases during the year."

Montana Has One At the University of Montana a student book store is operated with a graduate student manager in charge, he said. In addition to books college jewelry, pennants, supplies, and candy is sold. A soda fountain is also maintained. Student help is used exclusively, thereby affording an opportunity for several students to work their way through college.

"If a student book store were to be set up at Municipal University I believe it should be under the supervision of a committee composed of an equal number of faculty members and students," Dr. Stimson concluded.

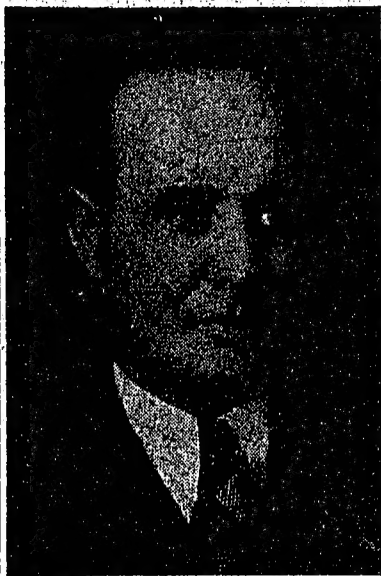

Public Accountant Speaks to Ad Club

Mr. Edwin J. Hewitt, certified public accountant, spoke to the Business Administration club Friday on the "Profession of Accounting." According to Mr. Hewitt, the demand for expert accountants is steadily increasing.

"Tax laws are constantly changing and budgeting is developing in the large corporations," Mr. Hewitt pointed out.

The next meeting of the club will be a general business meeting, at which prospective members are urged to be present, according to David Phillips, president.

Add to A. J. Dunlap Fund

Seniors Charged Fifty Cents Each for Memorial Plaque to Be Put in New Buildings.

Funds will be added to the A. J. Dunlap endowment by the senior class of 1934, according to a decision of the class at a meeting March 1. Harvel Barnes, senior class treasurer, is collecting fifty cents from each senior.

The endowment fund, established by the class of 1933, will be used for a bronze plaque to be installed in the new buildings of Municipal University.

Mr. A. J. Dunlap, former head of the business department, died while on a fishing trip in Minnesota in August, 1932. He took a prominent part in the campaign to make Omaha University a municipal institution.

Officers of the senior class are: Jay Planteen, president; Marie Baroch, vice-president; Virginia Soderstrom, secretary; Harvel Barnes, treasurer; and Robert Saxton, student council representative.

Indoor, Outdoor Efficiency Tests

Indoor and outdoor physical efficiency tests covering a period of five weeks starting Monday, will be given men in the gym classes, according to Lee Grossman, assistant physical director.

Scores made in each of the ten events will be averaged for the final rating. Indoor events during the first three weeks will be the standing broad jump and running high jump; pull ups (chinning) and push ups; rope climbing and dribbling the basketball.

Outdoor events held the first two weeks in April at Science Hall will be the 50 and 100-yard sprints, baseball throwing, and the running broad jump.

New Action Will Restore Old Gala Day

Council Reverses Decision to Abandon Gala Day; No Gala Dance—Usual Night Show.

NEW VOTE IS 6 TO 3

The usual Gala Day ceremonies will be held this year, the student council decided by a 6 to 3 vote, at a special meeting called Monday noon by Woodrow Tietzort, president of the council.

This vote nullifies the council's action at the March 1 meeting. At that time a motion introduced by Dick O'Brien, '36, calling for the abandonment of Gala Day this year, was passed by a 4 to 3 vote.

Dorothy's Hansen's Motion The motion to restore Gala Day was made by Dorothy Hansen, '34, and seconded by Eleanor Kirkpatrick, '37. Others who favored the motion were Robert Saxton, '34, Eleanor Johnson, '36, Minnette Myers, '36, and Ralph Marshall, '37.

Margaret Higgins, '35, John Burke, '34, and Franklin Buxton, '35, opposed restoring Gala Day. Dick O'Brien, '36, did not vote.

Queen and Night Show The traditional Gala ceremonies include the crowning of a queen in the afternoon and a show in the evening. The student council recently called for a vote of the student body to decide whether a dance should replace the customary show. The students voted or a dance, but Dr. W. H. Banquets of Two Honorary Frats

History Fraternity Installed in National Organization; Chem Dinner Last Tuesday.

Banquets of two honorary fraternities of Municipal University occurred last week.

Alpha Pi Epsilon, honorary history fraternity, was formally installed as Omicron chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national history fraternity, last Friday evening at Hotel Fontenelle following a banquet restricted to members of the organization. Dr. A. F. Zimmerman, dean of the social science department at Colorado Teachers' college, Greeley, and national secretary of Phi Alpha Theta, conducted the installation.

Tuesday evening Gamma Pi Sigma, honorary chemistry fraternity, gave its annual banquet at Hotel Conant. Dr. H. G. Deming, professor of chemistry at Nebraska, spoke on "Measuring Color With a Camera." Tickets were sold to the student body and the Omaha chapter of the American Academy of Science was invited.

Forty-seven attended the banquet, and twenty-one others came for the stereopticon lecture.

The 1934 Municipal university quintet has won 13 out of 16 contests. In the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic conference they won 7 out of 8, losing to Kearney after the title had been clinched.

Announced Plans Tuesday Lowell Curtis is high point man for the season. Lloyd Patterson captains the quintet.

While the Cards have been looking forward to playing in the A. A. U. tournament for several weeks, Coach Sed Hartman did not announce definitely that the team would enter until Tuesday, March 6th.

Competing Now in Intercollegiate Nebraska Tournament; Ends Tomorrow.

The debate team of Municipal university is attending the Nebraska Intercollegiate forensic tournament at Hastings. The tournament started yesterday and will end tomorrow.

Bernice Perlemeter, Josephine Carroll, Harry Griffin, and Hyman Finkelstein are on the team representing Omaha. Dr. Benjamin Boyce is coach of the team.

The question for debate is: "Resolved, That the Powers of the President Should be Substantially Increased as a Settled Policy."

This is the same tournament that the University of Omaha women's team won last year.

There are eleven girls' teams and about fifteen boys' teams entered in the tournament.

Dr. Sealock Tells Convention Views

That we are passing into a new social and economic order was the keynote of a convention held in Cleveland last week by a number of educational organizations, President W. E. Sealock said Tuesday. Dr. Sealock returned to Omaha Saturday, March 3.

"Most of the speakers," Dr. Sealock said, "were of the opinion that the present is a transition period, and because of this a greater responsibility rests upon the schools."

GALA DAY

THE conservative element has triumphed and Gala Day will be celebrated in the usual manner this year. After changing its collective mind twice in the past three weeks the Student Council has more or less definitely decided to preserve the University's "only tradition."

No doubt the Council is entirely within its rights in rescinding its own decisions as often as it likes. Nevertheless the Council must realize that it cannot call a special election, and then reverse the decision of the voters, without losing the respect of the student body.

INNOVATION

STUDENTS have taken over one of the main tasks of the course of study committee at Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville, New York. When a group of students desire a course that isn't listed in the catalogue they outline it briefly and then ask the professor of their choice to teach it.

Two courses initiated by students at Lawrence college last year proved so successful that they are being repeated this year. One is a course in an analysis of American culture. Different professors were asked to present various phases of this subject. The other course is in esthetic criticism of modern literature.

The idea appeals to us because of the many "new plans" adopted by colleges recently, it is the only one that takes any cognizance of student wishes. Most colleges assume that the faculty with their "superior wisdom and understanding of life" are best able to determine what should be taught.

Seminar courses offered by several departments at Omaha Municipal University give, to seniors at least, much the same opportunity that Lawrence students have to do work of their own choice. Nevertheless we think the curriculum might be materially enriched if students were allowed to have part in setting it up. Since they must pay the piper, why not let them call the tune occasionally?

"A college is a place where there is much teaching, maybe bad, and no learning."

James Harvey Robinson.

In a letter to the editor, a student asks: "Can everyone write for The Gateway, or just those students who flunked in English composition?"

"Education may not end in doubt, but it ends when a man stops doubting."

STUDENT FORUM

To the Editor, The Gateway: Now that elections are over (elections to fraternities) and all God's children (the rejected ones) have reconciled themselves, may I raise my humble voice to inform you of an interesting incident which occurred during election week?

Someone took it upon themselves to enlighten their friends and to show them the true path, and told them under no circumstances to allow hasty, unwise, and otherwise ungentlemanly persons to enter their organization.

As a consequence, a certain fraternity dropped a certain pledge. As a further consequence the former pledge utilized your student forum column to spread "sour grape" balm over his social wounds.

I have no personal objection to anyone soothing their hurts, but as a member of the student body I believe I do have the right to object to the slandering of any of our campus groups. Objections to procedures in elections I believe are ordinarily addressed to the student council. D. B.

To the Editor, The Gateway: Is this institution being run for the students? The students voted for a school dance. Yet certain individuals insist that the Gala Night show be held.

If the shows in the past had been great shows, there would be something to this tradition point. Only tremendous effort on the part of the officers and of others connected with the show put the show over.

I have reasons to believe that the show this year will not be supported. A school dance would be appreciated. D. E.

Doings of the Faculty

Mrs. V. Royce West spoke in German over radio station KICK Sunday on a program sponsored by the Omaha Federation of German societies. Mrs. West is a teacher in the Saturday German schools sponsored by this organization.

The University's Women's club entertained at an informal dinner at the Green Garden tearoom Friday evening. The faculty and board of regents with their wives attended.

Hostesses were Mesdames Nell Gillard, Pearl Weber, Frieda Helms, Margarita Vartanian, H. R. Orr, and Carol M. Pitts, and the Misses Inez Chestnut, and Elizabeth Kaho.

Miss Gertrude Kincaide, assistant professor of French, underwent an appendectomy at the Methodist hospital Sunday. Mrs. Dorothy Hawley, extension instructor in French, has been meeting Miss Kincaide's French classes and Dr. Wilfred Payne, chairman of the Humanities faculty, has been taking care of her Humanities conferences this week.

Charles Horejs, '36, addressed the Latin VIII class of Mrs. Bernice Engle at Central High school Monday. He traced the Latin derivation of a number of English words.

Mrs. T. Earl Sullenger underwent a major operation Saturday, March 2, at the Immanuel hospital.

When a collapsible collar makes you look pretty silly... forget it, son, with a pipeful of BRIGGS. This tranquil tobacco brings peace after panic. Long seasoned in wood, its rare, spicy tobaccos are tempered to mildness. There's not a bite in a barrelful of BRIGGS... the blend a feller needs.

New Action Will Restore Gala Day

son, dean of men and president of the alumni association, told the council through Woodrow Tietz, president, that part of Gala Day could not be changed without abolishing it altogether.

In the absence of three members, the council voted Thursday, March 1, to abandon the traditional holiday for the present year. Margaret Higgins, Dick O'Brien, Franklin Buxton, and Ralph Marshall voted to postpone Gala Day, and Elinor Johnson, Minette Myers, and Robert Saxton voted to retain it.

The vote of the council at that time was not final, because it did not represent the majority of the council, according to Tietz. It could have been accepted as legal, but Tietz believed another vote necessary to bring out the real opinion of the council.

Pres. W. E. Sealock, Back From Convention, Tells of New Views

among those attending the convention. In committee meetings particularly, he said, good natured clashes between conservative and the more progressive educators took place.

"This is a good sign, as it shows people are devoting more thought to problems of education," Dr. Sealock said. "A thing is dead when all people hold similar opinions concerning it."

"There was a general feeling among those at the convention that the federal government should devote money to education," Dr. Sealock said. "Many persons thought that as long as the federal government is tapping new sources of revenue, such as inheritance, income, and gasoline taxes, it behooves them to return to the states a portion of the revenue derived in this manner. The states are practically barred from levying similar taxes; especially is this true of the inheritance and income taxes."

Move Toward Re-Organization

Many colleges are moving toward reorganization of curriculum as has been done at Municipal University, he declared. This is a glaring contrast to the 1933 convention, where the subject was scarcely mentioned.

Might Is Right! Faculty Winner

The battle of the century is over. The right hand of the faculty was raised as the symbol of victory, for they "won" by the unanimous decision of the referees and the score-keepers. They beat the Theta-Alfa Sig team Tuesday, 45 to 17.

The bout was staged before a capacity crowd in the John Jacobs stadium.

Why —

Men and women say They Satisfy

FOR SOMETHING to "satisfy" you, means that it pleases you—that it's what you want. This applies to cigarettes or anything.

A cigarette has to taste right—not raw or too sweet. For a cigarette to "satisfy" it has to be mild—not strong, not harsh.

You can prove for yourself whether a cigarette is milder—whether a cigarette tastes better.

And it's because smokers can prove these things about Chesterfield that so many men and women say they satisfy. Try them.
